ADVANCED FILTRATION CONCEPTS

Filter service you can scan.

A ten-minute look at AFC Field and the AFC Hospital Portal.

AFC Field · technicians record the work

AFC Hospital Portal · the hospital sees status, not the shop

323.832.8316

Why this exists

On the unit

What filters are in it, how many, what size, and when they are due.

In the field

A tech should scan a sticker, do the changeout, and leave a record — even if the phone had to close.

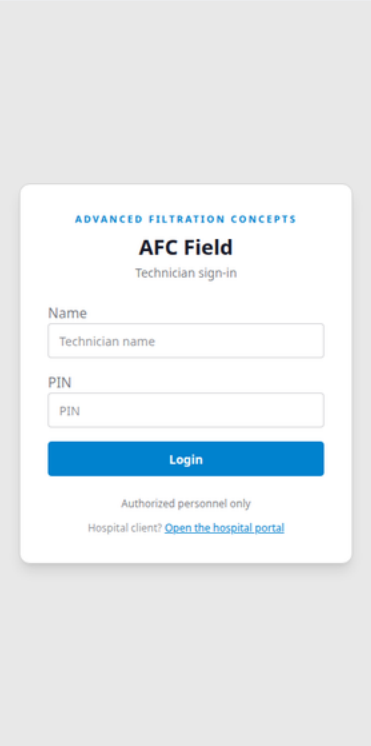

In the office

A director should see on-schedule / due / overdue for their hospital, without calling AFC for a spreadsheet.

Two apps. One survey.

AFC Field

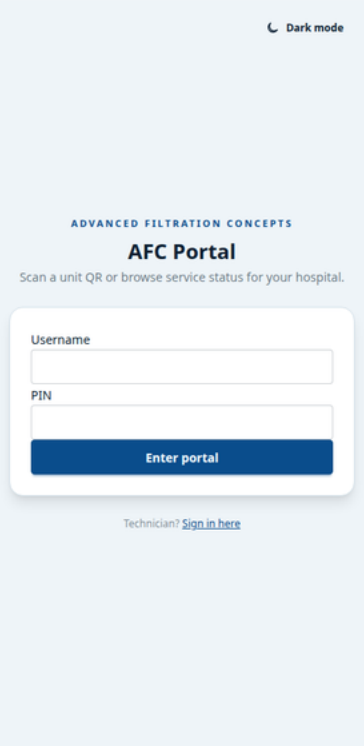

For AFC technicians

Scan · complete jobs · offline hospital download

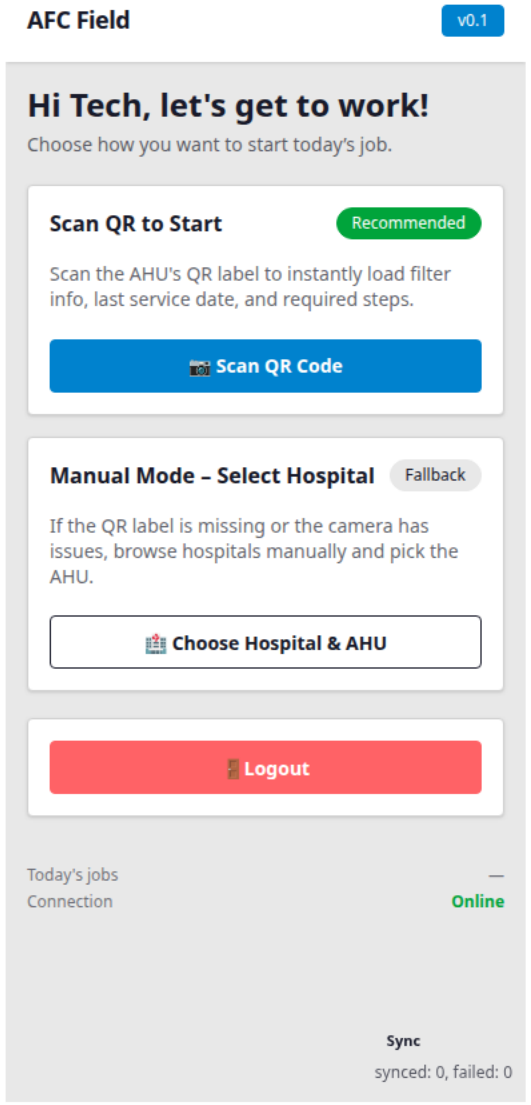

AFC Portal

For the hospital

Read-only status · same QR sticker · no prices

AFC Field — the tech’s day

Scan first. Manual is the fallback.

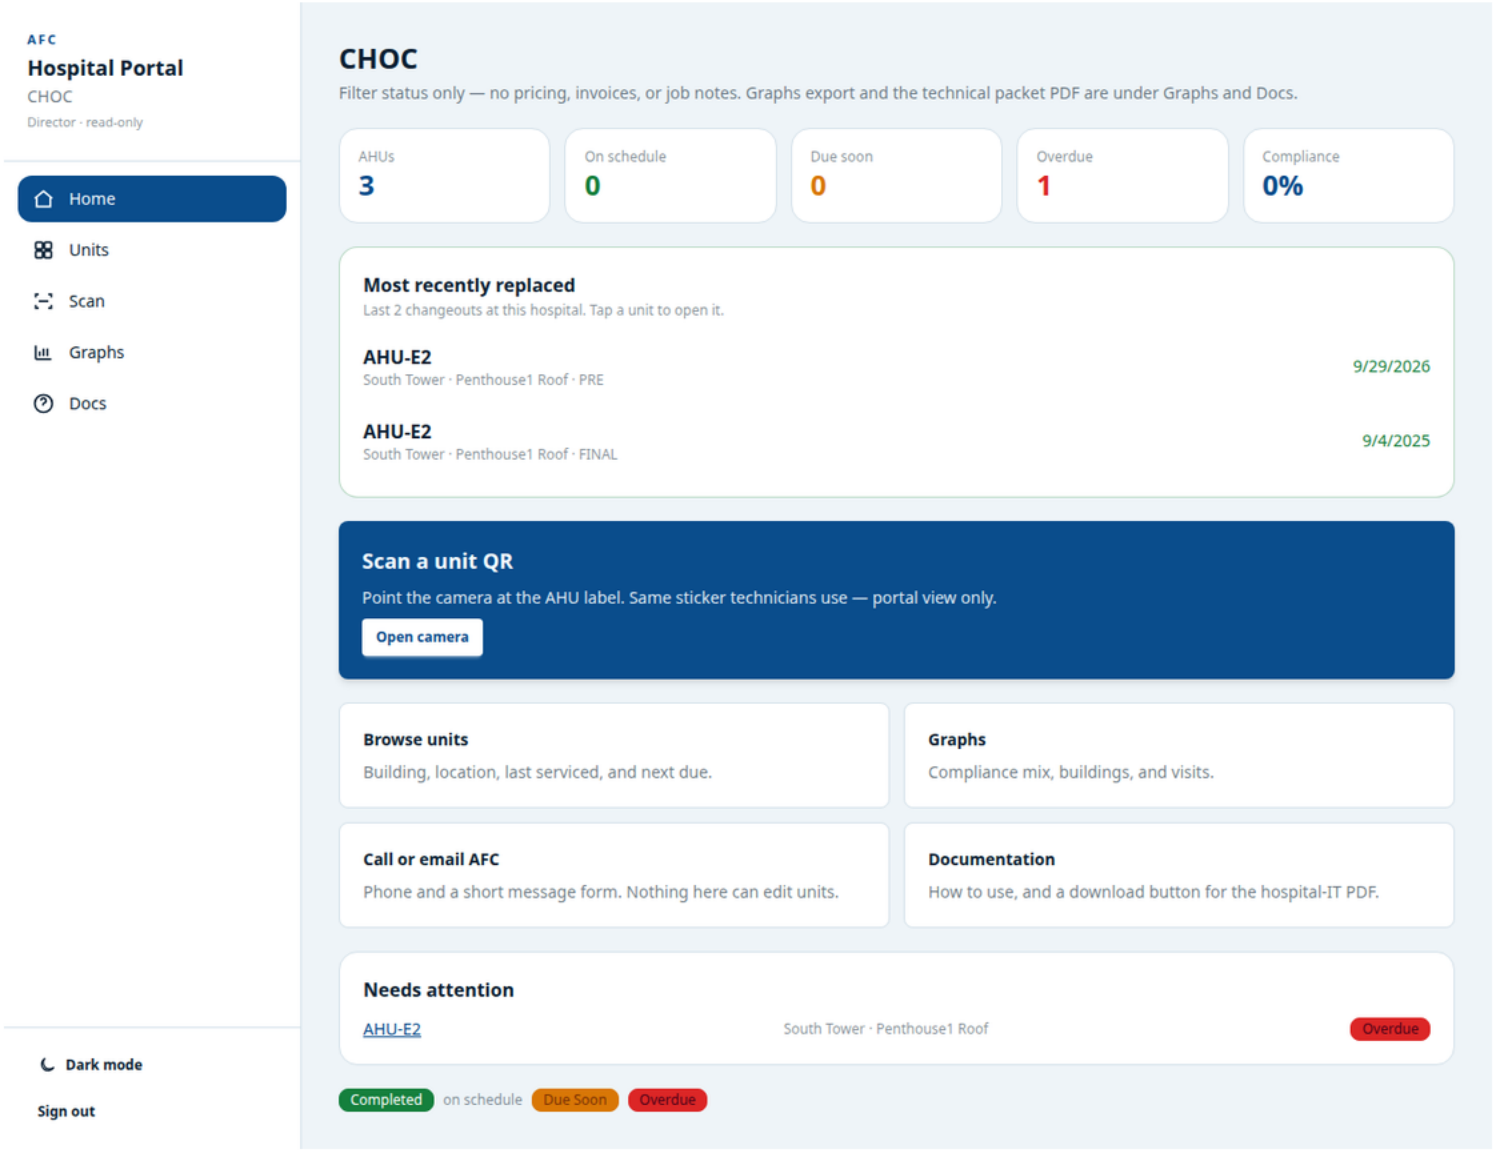

- Scan the AHU sticker → filters, last service, next due.
- Complete the changeout on the phone. Queue it if the roof has no signal.
- Download a hospital before you go. Jobs sync when you are back online.
- Close the app and come back — you stay signed in while the session is valid.

Every unit gets a 4×2 sticker

Headline is the AHU and the building. Hospital name sits under it. AFC mark is in the QR. Same label for our techs and for hospital staff.

What the hospital never sees

Prices, invoices, POs

The portal is status, not a catalog.

Catalog part numbers on unit pages

Stickers and unit pages do not show PNs.

GPS, AFC tech names, job notes

Internal to Field. Skip comments are read-only.

Other hospitals

Every query is locked to the login’s hospital.

Writes

No edit, no delete, no import. Contact is a message to AFC.

PHI

AHU names and filter PM dates. Not patients. Not an EHR.

Scan the unit. Do the job. See the status.

AFC Field — our technicians

AFC Portal — the hospital, read-only

Same sticker. Same survey. Different doors.
